Acquisition of Atlantic House Holdings Limited

On March 13, 2026, the Company and WisdomTree International Holdings Ltd, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company (the "AH Purchaser"), entered into a Sale and Purchase Agreement ("Atlantic House Purchase Agreement") with Atlantic House Holdings Limited ("Atlantic House"), the shareholders of Atlantic House (collectively, the "AH Sellers"), the EBT Trustee and the Individual Guarantor (each as defined therein), pursuant to which the AH Purchaser agreed to acquire from the AH Sellers all of the issued and outstanding share capital of Atlantic House, subject to the terms and conditions set forth therein.

On May 1, 2026, the AH Purchaser completed the Atlantic House acquisition for aggregate consideration consisting of £150,000 (approximately $200,000) in cash payable at closing, subject to customary post-closing adjustments, including adjustments to cash, indebtedness and working capital. See Note 3 for additional information.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") and in the opinion of management reflect all adjustments, consisting of only normal recurring adjustments, necessary for a fair presentation of the financial statements. The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company's wholly-owned subsidiaries. All intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

The financial results of Ceres and Atlantic House are included in the Company's consolidated financial statements since their acquisition dates, October 1, 2025 and May 1, 2026, respectively (See Note 3).

Consolidation

The Company consolidates entities in which it has a controlling financial interest. The Company determines whether it has a controlling financial interest in an entity by first evaluating whether the entity is a voting interest entity ("VOE") or a variable interest entity ("VIE"). The usual condition for a controlling financial interest in a VOE is ownership of a majority voting interest. If the Company has a majority voting interest in a VOE, the entity is consolidated. The Company has a controlling financial interest in a VIE when the Company has a variable interest that provides it with (i) the power to direct the activities of the VIE that most significantly impact the VIE's economic performance and (ii) the obligation to absorb losses of the VIE or the right to receive benefits from the VIE that could potentially be significant to the VIE.

The Company reassesses its evaluation of whether an entity is a VOE or VIE when certain reconsideration events occur.

Segment and Geographic Information

The Company, through its subsidiaries in the U.S. and Europe, is a modern global asset manager with capabilities across public markets, private markets, tokenization and onchain finance, offering a diverse suite of ETPs, models and solutions, private market investments and blockchain-enabled products and services. The Company conducts business as a single operating segment as an ETP sponsor and asset manager, which is based upon the Company's current organizational and management structure, as well as information used by the Company's Chief Executive Officer (the chief operating decision maker, or CODM) to allocate resources and other factors.

Foreign Currency Translation

Assets and liabilities of subsidiaries whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar are translated based on the end of period exchange rates from local currency to U.S. dollars. Results of operations are translated at the average exchange rates in effect during the period. The impact of the foreign currency translation adjustment is included in the Consolidated Statements of Comprehensive Income as a component of other comprehensive (loss)/income.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of the Company's consolidated financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities as of the balance sheet dates and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses for the periods presented. Actual results could differ materially from those estimates.

Revenue Recognition

Advisory Fees

The Company earns a significant portion of its revenues in the form of advisory fees from its ETPs and recognizes this revenue over time, as the performance obligation is satisfied. Advisory fees are based on a percentage of the ETPs' average daily net assets. Progress is measured using the practical expedient under the output method resulting in the recognition of revenue in the amount for which the Company has a right to invoice.

Management and Performance Fees - Ceres

The Company earns management fees in exchange for Ceres providing investment advisory and other management services to the Ceres Funds. Management fees are generally calculated as a stated percentage of members' capital account balances as of the last day of each calendar quarter, subject to adjustment for any contractual waivers as well as contributions and redemptions arising in any particular quarter. Management fees are recognized as revenue over time, as the performance obligation is satisfied.

Performance fees represent variable consideration and are earned based on a specified percentage of the Ceres Funds' net profits, subject to contractual fee waivers, high-water marks and loss recovery requirements. Performance fees are earned only after members have recovered prior losses and applicable thresholds have been met. Performance fee revenues are recognized when it is probable that a significant reversal of cumulative revenues recognized will not occur, which generally occurs upon the determination of fund profits that are no longer subject to clawback or reversal under the governing agreements.

Other Revenues

Other revenues include amounts earned from swap providers associated with certain of the Company's European-listed ETPs, which are generally based on a percentage of the ETPs' average daily net assets, and transaction-based income associated with flows into certain European-listed ETPs. Also included in other revenues are amounts the Company earns from Atlantic House's managed models business, generally based on a percentage of assets under advisement, as well as structuring fees for bespoke investment solutions.

Revenue is recognized as the related services are performed. Asset-based fees are recognized over time, based on assets under advisement or net assets. Transaction-based revenues are recognized as the underlying transactions occur, while structuring fees are recognized upon issuance of the related structured product, at which point the Company's performance obligation has been satisfied. Amounts are generally invoiced monthly or quarterly in arrears. The Company applies the practical expedient under the output method, recognizing revenue in the amount to which it has the right to invoice, as this corresponds directly with the value transferred to the client. There is no significant judgment in determining the transaction price, and the related revenues are not subject to significant reversal.

Marketing and Advertising

Marketing and advertising costs, including media advertising and production costs, are expensed when incurred.

Depreciation and Amortization

Depreciation and amortization is provided for using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets as follows:

Equipment	3 to 5 years
Internally-developed software	3 years

The assets listed above are recorded at cost, less accumulated depreciation and amortization. See Note 21 for estimated useful lives of intangible assets.

Stock-Based Awards

Accounting for stock-based compensation requires the measurement and recognition of compensation expense for all equity awards based on estimated fair values. Stock-based compensation is measured based on the grant-date fair value of the award and is amortized over the relevant service period. Forfeitures are recognized when they occur.

Third-Party Distribution Fees

The Company pays a percentage of its advisory fee revenues based on incremental growth in assets under management ("AUM"), subject to caps or minimums, to marketing agents to sell WisdomTree ETPs and for including WisdomTree ETPs on third-party customer platforms and recognizes these expenses as incurred.

Cash, Cash Equivalents and Restricted Cash

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of 90 days or less at the time of purchase, as well as certain onchain products that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and subject to insignificant risk of changes in value (including USD Coin ("USDC") and WisdomTree Dollar Token ("USDW"), to be classified as cash equivalents. The Company maintains deposits with financial institutions in an amount that is in excess of federally insured limits. Restricted cash is required to be maintained in a separate account with withdrawal and usage restrictions.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable are customer and other obligations due under normal trade terms. The Company measures credit losses, if any, by applying historical loss rates, adjusted for current conditions and reasonable and supportable forecasts to amounts outstanding using the aging method.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

The Company performs a review for the impairment of long-lived assets when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the estimated undiscounted future cash flows expected to be generated by the assets are less than their carrying amounts or when other events occur which may indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable.

Financial Instruments Owned (at Fair Value)

Financial instruments owned are classified as trading and are recorded on the trade date and measured at fair value. Changes in fair value are reported in other income/(expenses) in the period the change occurs.

Investments

The Company accounts for equity investments that do not have a readily determinable fair value under the measurement alternative prescribed in Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") Topic 321, Investments – Equity Securities ("ASC 321"), to the extent such investments are not subject to consolidation or the equity method. Under the measurement alternative, these financial instruments are carried at cost, less any impairment (assessed quarterly), plus or minus changes resulting from observable price changes in orderly transactions for an identical or similar investment of the same issuer. In addition, income is recognized when dividends are received only to the extent they are distributed from net accumulated earnings of the investee. Otherwise, such distributions are considered returns of investment and are recorded as a reduction of the cost of the investment.

Investments in debt instruments are accounted for at fair value, with changes in fair value reported in other income/(expenses).

Goodwill

Goodwill is the excess of the purchase price over the fair values of the identifiable net assets at the acquisition date. The Company tests goodwill for impairment at least annually and at the time of a triggering event requiring re-evaluation, if one were to occur. Goodwill is considered impaired when the estimated fair value of the reporting unit that was allocated the goodwill is less than its carrying value. If the estimated fair value of such reporting unit is less than its carrying value, goodwill impairment is recognized based on that difference, not to exceed the carrying amount of goodwill. A reporting unit is an operating segment or a component of an operating segment provided that the component constitutes a business for which discrete financial information is available and management regularly reviews the operating results of that component.

The Company tests goodwill for impairment at the reporting unit level and has determined that it has a single reporting unit, consistent with its single operating segment. Goodwill is assessed for impairment annually on November 30th. When performing its goodwill impairment test, the Company considers a qualitative assessment, when appropriate, and a quantitative assessment using the market approach and its market capitalization when determining the fair value of the reporting unit.

Intangible Assets

Indefinite-lived intangible assets are tested for impairment at least annually and are also reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Indefinite-lived intangible assets are impaired if their estimated fair values are less than their carrying values.

Finite-lived intangible assets are amortized over their estimated useful life, which is the period over which the assets are expected to contribute directly or indirectly to the future cash flows of the Company. These intangible assets are tested for impairment at the time of a triggering event, if one were to occur. Finite-lived intangible assets may be impaired when the estimated undiscounted future cash flows generated from the assets are less than their carrying amounts.

The Company may rely on a qualitative assessment when performing its intangible asset impairment test. Otherwise, the impairment evaluation is performed at the lowest level of reasonably identifiable cash flows independent of other assets. The annual impairment testing date for all of the Company's intangible assets is November 30th.

Software Development Costs

Software development costs incurred after the preliminary project stage is complete are capitalized if it is probable that the project will be completed and the software will be used as intended. Capitalized costs consist of employee compensation costs and fees paid to third parties who are directly involved in the application development efforts and are included in intangible assets, net in the Consolidated Balance Sheets. Such costs are amortized over the estimated useful life of the software on a straight-line basis and are included in depreciation and amortization in the Consolidated Statements of Operations. Once the application development stage is complete, additional costs are expensed as incurred.

Leases

The Company accounts for its lease obligations in accordance with ASC Topic 842, Leases ("ASC 842"), which requires the recognition of both (i) a lease liability equal to the present value of the remaining lease payments and (ii) an offsetting right-of-use asset. The remaining lease payments are discounted using the rate implicit in the lease, if known, or otherwise the Company's incremental borrowing rate. After lease commencement, right-of-use assets are assessed for impairment and otherwise are amortized over the remaining lease term on a straight-line basis. These recognition requirements are not applied to short-term leases, which are those with a lease term of 12 months or less. Instead, lease payments associated with short-term leases are recognized as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

ASC 842 also provides a practical expedient which allows for consideration in a contract to be accounted for as a single lease component rather than allocated between lease and non-lease components. The Company has elected to apply this practical expedient to all lease contracts, where applicable.

Convertible Notes

Convertible notes are carried at amortized cost, net of issuance costs. The Company accounts for convertible instruments as a single liability (applicable to the convertible notes) or equity with no separate accounting for embedded conversion features unless the conversion feature meets the criteria for accounting under the substantial premium model or does not qualify for a derivative scope exception. Interest expense is recognized using the effective interest method and includes amortization of issuance costs over the life of the debt.

Acquisition-related Costs

The Company accounts for business combinations in accordance with ASC Topic 805, Business Combinations ("ASC 805"), with acquisitions recorded using the acquisition method. Transaction costs associated with acquisitions are expensed as incurred.

Contingencies

The Company may be subject to reviews, inspections and investigations by regulatory authorities as well as legal proceedings arising in the ordinary course of business. The Company evaluates the likelihood of an unfavorable outcome of all legal or regulatory proceedings to which it is a party and accrues a loss contingency when the loss is probable and reasonably estimable.

Contingent Payments

The Company recognizes a gain on contingent payments when the contingency is resolved and the gain is realized.

Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per share ("EPS") is computed by dividing net income available to common stockholders by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding for the period. Net income available to common stockholders represents net income of the Company reduced by an allocation of earnings to participating securities and excise tax on stock repurchases. Unvested share-based payment awards that contained non-forfeitable rights to dividends or dividend equivalents (whether paid or unpaid) were participating securities while they were outstanding and were included in the computation of EPS pursuant to the two-class method. Share-based payment awards that do not contain such rights are not deemed participating securities and are included in diluted shares outstanding (if dilutive).

Diluted EPS is calculated under the treasury stock method and the two-class method. The calculation that results in the lowest diluted EPS amount for the common stock is reported in the Company's consolidated financial statements. The treasury stock method includes the dilutive effect of potential common shares including unvested stock-based awards. Potential common shares associated with the convertible notes were computed under the if-converted method. Potential common shares associated with the conversion option embedded in the convertible notes are dilutive when the Company's average stock price exceeds the conversion price.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes using the liability method, which requires the determination of deferred tax assets and liabilities based on the differences between the financial and tax bases of assets and liabilities using the enacted tax rates in effect for the year in which differences are expected to reverse. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance if, based on the weight of available evidence, it is more-likely-than-not that some portion or all the deferred tax assets will not be realized.

Tax positions are evaluated utilizing a two-step process. The Company first determines whether any of its tax positions are more-likely-than-not to be sustained upon examination, based solely on the technical merits of the position. Once it is determined that a position meets this recognition threshold, the position is measured as the largest amount of benefit that is greater than 50% likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement. The Company records interest expense and penalties related to tax expenses as income tax expense.

The Global Intangible Low-Taxed Income ("GILTI") provisions of the Tax Reform Act requires the Company to include in its U.S. income tax return foreign subsidiary earnings in excess of an allowable return on the foreign subsidiary's tangible assets. An accounting policy election is available to either account for the tax effects of GILTI in the period that is subject to such taxes or to provide deferred taxes for book and tax basis differences that upon reversal may be subject to such taxes. The Company accounts for the tax effects of these provisions in the period that is subject to such tax.

Non-income based taxes are recorded as part of other liabilities and other expenses. Excise taxes on stock repurchases are accounted for as a direct cost of the share repurchase transaction and reported as a reduction of stockholders' equity.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

On September 18, 2025, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2025-06, Intangibles—Goodwill and Other—Internal-Use Software (Subtopic 350-40): Targeted Improvements to the Accounting for Internal-Use Software, which clarifies and modernizes the accounting for costs related to internal-use software. The guidance removes all references to project stages in prior guidance, clarifies the threshold entities apply to begin capitalizing costs and adds more detail to disclosure requirements. The guidance is effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2027, and interim reporting periods within those annual reporting periods. The Company does not anticipate this standard to have a material impact on its financial statements.

On November 4, 2024, the FASB issued ASU 2024-03, Reporting Comprehensive Income—Expense Disaggregation Disclosures, which requires additional information about specific expense categories in the notes to financial statements at interim and annual reporting periods. The guidance is effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2026, and interim reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2027. The Company does not anticipate this standard to have a material impact on its financial statements.

On November 26, 2024, the FASB issued ASU 2024-04, Debt—Debt with Conversion and Other Options (Subtopic 470-20): Induced Conversions of Convertible Debt Instruments which clarifies the requirements related to accounting for the settlement of a debt instrument as an induced conversion. Transactions within the scope of this guidance require the fair value of consideration transferred in excess of the value that would have been delivered under the original conversion terms of the converted debt to be recognized as an expense in the period of conversion, with the remaining consideration recognized as a reduction to equity. The guidance is effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2025 (and interim reporting periods within those annual reporting periods). The Company adopted this guidance on January 1, 2026, and the impact of the adoption has been reflected in the financial statements and related disclosures.

3. Business Combination

Atlantic House

Summary

As previously disclosed in Note 1, on May 1, 2026, the Company completed the Atlantic House acquisition. Pursuant to the Atlantic House Purchase Agreement, the purchase price consisted of £150,000 (approximately $200,000) in cash payable at closing, subject to customary post-closing adjustments, including adjustments to cash, indebtedness and working capital. After giving effect to such adjustments, the purchase consideration paid was £154,537 ($209,099).

Purchase Price Allocation

The Atlantic House acquisition is accounted for under the acquisition method of accounting in accordance with ASC Topic 805, Business Combinations, which requires an allocation of the consideration paid by the Company to the identifiable assets and liabilities of Atlantic House based on the estimated fair values as of the closing date of the acquisition. Since the acquisition closed on May 1, 2026, the purchase price allocation has been refined as the Company completed its valuation of certain assets acquired and liabilities assumed. An allocation of the consideration paid is presented below and includes the Company's estimates of the fair value of tangible and intangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed.

The following table summarizes the allocation of the purchase price as of the acquisition date:

Purchase consideration paid	$	209,099
Total purchase price	$	209,099
Allocation of consideration:
Cash and cash equivalents	$	11,611
Other net tangible assets		444
Intangible assets[(1)]		82,743
Deferred tax liability[(2)]		(20,272)
Fair value of net assets acquired	$	74,526
Goodwill resulting from the Atlantic House acquisition[(3)]	$	134,573

(1) Represents the purchase price allocation to management contracts ($65,061), customer relationships ($10,663), non-compete agreements ($4,724), trade names and trademarks ($1,350) and model distribution relationships ($945). Management contracts, customer relationships and model distribution relationships were valued using the multi-period excess earnings method based on the existing contractual rights, assets under management and customer relationships existing at the acquisition date. Significant unobservable inputs used to value the management contracts included a long-term revenue growth rate of 5.0%. The customer relationships and model distribution relationships included attrition assumptions of 15.0% and 10.0%, respectively. Trade names and trademarks were valued using the relief-from-royalty method assuming a royalty rate of 2.0%. Non-compete agreements were valued using the with-and-without method assuming probability of competition of 20.0%. See Note 21 for additional information, including the useful lives of these finite lived assets.

(2) The acquired goodwill and intangible assets are not deductible for income tax purposes. Accordingly, the purchase price allocation includes a deferred tax liability for the difference between the assigned fair values and tax bases of the identifiable intangible assets, resulting in a corresponding increase to goodwill.

(3) Goodwill arising from the Atlantic House acquisition primarily represents the expected future economic benefits associated with integrating Atlantic House's investment management capabilities into the Company's existing business, including developing new products, broadening distribution through the Company's existing U.S. and European sales channels and other future growth opportunities. Goodwill also includes the value attributable to the assembled workforce, which does not qualify for separate recognition.

Acquisition-related costs

The Company incurred acquisition-related costs associated with the Atlantic House acquisition of $3,051 during the nine months ended September 30, 2026, the nature of which included professional advisor fees and stamp duty taxes.

Results of operations

Since the acquisition date of May 1, 2026, Atlantic House contributed revenues of $8,870 and $14,783, respectively, and income before taxes of $4,441 and $6,444, respectively, to the Company's consolidated results of operations for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2026.

Ceres

Summary

On July 31, 2025, the Company and WisdomTree Farmland Holdings, LLC (formerly WisdomTree Farmland Holdings, Inc.), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company (the "Purchaser"), entered into an Equity Purchase Agreement (the "Ceres Purchase Agreement") with Ceres, the members of Ceres (together, the "Sellers"), and an individual acting as the Sellers' representative, pursuant to which the Purchaser agreed to acquire from the Sellers all of the issued and outstanding equity interests of Ceres, subject to the terms and conditions set forth therein.

On October 1, 2025, the Purchaser completed the Ceres acquisition for aggregate consideration consisting of (i) $275,000 in cash payable at closing subject to customary post-closing adjustments, including adjustments to cash, indebtedness and working capital, and (ii) earnout consideration of up to $225,000, payable in 2030, contingent upon Ceres achieving a compound annual growth rate ("CAGR") in revenue of 12% to 22% during the earnout measurement period of January 1, 2025 through December 31, 2029.

Purchase Price Allocation

The Ceres acquisition is accounted for under the acquisition method of accounting in accordance with ASC Topic 805, Business Combinations, which requires an allocation of the consideration paid by the Company to the identifiable assets and liabilities of Ceres based on the estimated fair values as of the closing date of the acquisition. An allocation of the consideration paid is presented below and includes the Company's valuation of the fair value of tangible and intangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed.

The following table summarizes the allocation of the purchase price as of the acquisition date:

Cash on hand, net of cash acquired	$	270,346
Fair value of contingent consideration[(1)]		11,134
Total purchase price	$	281,480
Allocation of consideration:
Ceres net liabilities assumed	$	(3,803)
Intangible assets[(2)]		143,500
Fair value of net assets acquired	$	139,697
Goodwill resulting from the Ceres acquisition[(3)]	$	141,783

(1) Measured at fair value using a Monte Carlo simulation. See below for additional information.

(2) Represents purchase price allocated to a customary advisory agreement ($135,000) and trade name ($8,500) which were determined to have a finite-life (estimated useful life of 25 years). The customary advisory agreement was valued using the multi-period excess earnings method. This method relied upon significant unobservable inputs including a long-term revenue growth rate of approximately (0.1%) and a discount rate of 15.5%. The revenue growth rate contemplates that Ceres Fund I, the fund from which the Company derives revenues, has ceased accepting new capital, with future business expected to be allocated to Ceres Fund II. The trade name is finite-lived (estimated useful life of 25 years) and was valued using the relief-from-royalty method. Significant unobservable inputs include a long-term revenue growth rate of approximately 3.0%, a royalty rate of 2.0% and a discount rate of 15.5%.

(3) Goodwill arising from the Ceres acquisition represents expected synergies from the integration of Ceres and the Company, including capital raising activities for a new farmland fund to be formed. Goodwill is not amortized for financial reporting purposes, and both goodwill and intangible assets are expected to be fully deductible for tax purposes.

Acquisition-related costs

The Company incurred acquisition-related costs associated with the Ceres acquisition of $2,409 and $4,376, respectively, during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2025, the nature of which included professional advisor fees.

Supplemental Unaudited Pro Forma Financial Information

The following table presents unaudited supplemental pro forma financial information of the Company as if the Atlantic House and Ceres acquisitions had occurred on January 1, 2025. The unaudited pro forma financial information was derived from the historical financial results of the Company, Atlantic House and Ceres for all periods presented and was adjusted to give effect to pro forma adjustments that are directly attributable to the Atlantic House and Ceres acquisitions, factually supportable and expected to have a continuing impact on the combined results following the acquisitions.

	Three Months Ended		Nine Months Ended
	September 30, 2026	September 30, 2025	September 30, 2026	September 30, 2025
Revenue	$ 179,375	$ 147,900	$ 528,743	$ 400,953
Net income[(1)]	$ 49,216	$ 21,135	$ 73,556	$ 68,817

(1) Includes $2,415 and $2,400 of intangible amortization expense (net of income taxes) for the three months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, and $7,216 and $7,201 of intangible amortization expense (net of income taxes) for the nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, respectively.

Significant adjustments reflected in the unaudited pro forma financial information include amortization expense associated with the acquired identifiable intangible assets, interest expense associated with acquisition financing, the elimination of nonrecurring acquisition-related costs directly attributable to the acquisitions, and the related income tax effects of the pro forma adjustments.

The unaudited supplemental pro forma financial information is presented for informational purposes only and is not necessarily indicative of the results of operations that would have been achieved had the Atlantic House and Ceres acquisitions occurred on January 1, 2025, nor is it necessarily indicative of future operating results.

4. Cash, Cash Equivalents and Restricted Cash

Of the total cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash of $299,740 and $311,732 at September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively, $273,938 and $294,158 were held at three financial institutions. At September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, cash equivalents were approximately $129,501 and $161,063, respectively.

Certain of the Company's subsidiaries are required to maintain a minimum level of regulatory capital, generally satisfied by cash on hand, which was $48,545 and $38,861 at September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively. Of these amounts, $11,899 and $11,700, at September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively, was restricted cash, which is required to be maintained in a separate account with withdrawal and usage restrictions in compliance with regulatory obligations.

5. Fair Value Measurements

The fair value of financial instruments is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability (i.e., "the exit price") in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. ASC 820, Fair Value Measurement, establishes a hierarchy for inputs used in measuring fair value that maximizes the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs by requiring that the most observable inputs be used when available. Observable inputs are inputs that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability developed based on market data obtained from independent sources. Unobservable inputs reflect assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability developed based on the best information available in the circumstances. The hierarchy is broken down into three levels based on the transparency of inputs as follows:

Level 1 – Quoted prices for identical instruments in active markets.

Level 2 – Quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets; quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are not active; and model-derived valuations whose inputs are observable or whose significant value drivers are observable.

Level 3 – Instruments whose significant drivers are unobservable.

The availability of observable inputs can vary from product to product and is affected by a wide variety of factors, including, for example, the type of product, whether the product is new and not yet established in the marketplace, and other characteristics particular to the transaction. To the extent that valuation is based on models or inputs that are less observable or unobservable in the market, the determination of fair value requires more judgment. Accordingly, the degree of judgment exercised by management in determining fair value is greatest for instruments categorized in Level 3. In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, for disclosure purposes, the level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement in its entirety falls is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety.

The tables below summarize the categorization of the Company's assets and liabilities measured at fair value. During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, there were no transfers between Levels 2 and 3.

Recurring Fair Value Measurements – Methodology

Cash equivalents (Note 4) – These financial assets represent cash invested in highly liquid investments with original maturities of less than 90 days, certain onchain products that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and subject to insignificant risk of changes in value (including USDC and USDW), as well as institutional money market funds that invest in short-term, high-quality U.S. Treasury and government agency securities and aim to maintain a stable $1.00 net asset value per share. These investments are valued at par, which approximates fair value, and are classified as Level 1 in the fair value hierarchy.

Financial instruments owned (Note 6) – Financial instruments owned are investments in ETFs, pass-through GSEs, equities and fixed income. ETFs and equities are generally traded in active, quoted and highly liquid markets and are therefore classified as Level 1 in the fair value hierarchy. Pricing of pass-through GSEs and fixed income includes consideration given to date of issuance, collateral characteristics and market assumptions related to yields, credit risk and timing of prepayments and may be classified as either Level 1 or Level 2.

Contingent consideration (Note 10) – This liability represents contingent consideration arising from the Ceres acquisition which is measured at fair value on a recurring basis and classified within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy as the valuation incorporates significant unobservable inputs. Fair value is estimated using a Monte Carlo simulation model, which incorporates a range of potential revenue outcomes over the earnout measurement period and estimates the probability-weighted present value of expected future payments. Significant assumptions used in the valuation include compound annual growth rate (“CAGR”), revenue volatility and revenue discount rate.

Fair Value Measurements classified as Level 3 – The following table presents a reconciliation of beginning and ending balances of recurring fair value measurements classified as Level 3:

Fair value was allocated across the capital structure using the Black-Scholes option pricing model. The table below presents the inputs used in the backsolve valuation approach (classified as Level 3 in the fair value hierarchy):

	Inputs

Expected volatility	55%
Time to exit (in years)	5.00
Probability of regulatory approval or qualified financing before time to exit	100%

10. Contingent Consideration

Pursuant to the Ceres Purchase Agreement, up to $225,000 of additional consideration is payable in 2030, contingent upon Ceres achieving a CAGR in revenue of 12% to 22% during the earnout measurement period of January 1, 2025 through December 31, 2029, as follows:

- If the revenue CAGR for the earnout period is equal to or less than 12%, then the aggregate amount of the earnout consideration will be $0;
- If the revenue CAGR for the earnout period is greater than 12% but less than 22%, then the aggregate amount of the earnout consideration will be pro-rated using straight-line interpolation between $0 and $225,000; and
- If the revenue CAGR for the earnout period is equal to or greater than 22%, then the aggregate amount of the earnout consideration will be $225,000.

The Company has determined that the earnout should be classified as contingent consideration as (i) continuing employment is not a condition for payment (except as described below), (ii) non-employee sellers are entitled to similar payments based upon their relative ownership percentages and (iii) the payment formula described above is tied to the valuation of the acquired business. Under ASC 805, contingent consideration must be recognized at the acquisition date as part of the consideration transferred for the acquired business.

The fair value of the contingent consideration was $13,697 and $11,844 at September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, respectively. During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2026, the Company recognized a gain/(loss) on remeasurement of $2,069 and ($1,853), respectively, which was recognized in the Consolidated Statements of Operations. The fair value measurement of the contingent consideration is classified within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy due to the valuation incorporating significant unobservable inputs. The actual amount payable may differ from the assumptions used to estimate fair value, which could result in material changes to the amount ultimately paid.

The table below presents the inputs used in the remeasurement of contingent consideration:

	Inputs
	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Revenue CAGR through December 31, 2029	9.3%	8.4%
Revenue volatility	26.0%	30.0%
Revenue discount rate	11.7%	11.9%

In connection with the Ceres acquisition, the Sellers established a retention bonus plan for certain Ceres employees pursuant to which the greater of $3,050 or 10% of any earnout consideration in excess of $50,000 will be forfeited by the Sellers and paid to participating employees, contingent upon their continued employment through earnout payment date. Any amounts forfeited due to employee attrition revert to the Sellers. This compensation will be recognized over the service period with an equal and offsetting receivable from the Sellers. Accrued compensation totaled $706 at September 30, 2026.

Closure of the WisdomTree WTI Crude Oil 3x Daily Leveraged ETP

Between December 2020 and December 2024, WMAI, WTMAML, WTUK and/or WT Ireland were served with eight separate writs of summons to appear before the Courts of Milan, Udine or Turin, Italy by investors seeking damages resulting from the closure of the WisdomTree WTI Crude Oil 3x Daily Leveraged ETP ("3OIL") in March 2020. The product was dependent on the receipt of payments from a swap provider to satisfy payment obligations to the investors. Due to an extreme adverse move in oil futures relative to the oil futures' closing price, the swap contract underlying 3OIL was terminated by the swap provider, which resulted in the compulsory redemption of 3OIL, all in accordance with the prospectus.

Since February 2022, all eight actions have been resolved in the Company's favor, of which two have been appealed. Total damages sought by investors related to the remaining appealed claims were approximately €15,240 ($17,290) at September 30, 2026.

The Company continues to assess the appealed claims with its external counsel. The Company expects that losses, if any, arising from these claims will be covered under its insurance policies, less a $500 deductible. An accrual has not been made with respect to these matters at September 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

14. Variable Interest Entities

VIEs are entities with any of the following characteristics: (i) the entity does not have enough equity to finance its activities without additional financial support; (ii) the equity holders, as a group, lack the characteristics of a controlling financial interest; or (iii) the entity is structured with non-substantive voting rights.

Consolidation of a VIE is required for the party deemed to be the primary beneficiary, if any. The primary beneficiary is the party who has both (a) the power to direct the activities of a VIE that most significantly impact the entity's economic performance and (b) an obligation to absorb losses of the entity or a right to receive benefits from the entity that could potentially be significant to the entity. The Company is not the primary beneficiary of any entities in which it has a variable interest as it does not have the power to direct the activities that most significantly impact the entities' economic performance. Such power is conveyed through the entities' boards of directors and the Company does not have control over the boards.

The following table presents information about the Company's variable interests in non-consolidated VIEs:

	September 30, 2026	December 31, 2025
Carrying Amount—Assets:
Fnality International Limited (Note 7)	$ 22,140	$ 22,575
Maximum exposure to loss	$ 22,140	$ 22,575

15. Revenues from Contracts with Customers

The following table presents the Company's total revenues from contracts with customers:

	Three Months Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
	2026	2025	2026	2025
Revenues from contracts with customers:
Advisory fees	$ 151,631	$ 114,485	$ 432,811	$ 317,275
Management fees	5,420	—	16,020	—
Performance fees	3,778	—	12,697	—
Other revenues	18,546	11,131	54,477	29,044
Total operating revenues	$ 179,375	$ 125,616	$ 516,005	$ 346,319

The Company recognizes revenues from contracts with customers when the performance obligation is satisfied, which is when the promised services are transferred to the customer. A service is considered to be transferred when the customer obtains control, which is represented by the transfer of rights with regard to the service. Transfer of control happens either over time or at a point in time. When a performance obligation is satisfied over time, an entity is required to select a single method of measuring progress for each performance obligation that depicts the entity's performance in transferring control of services to the customer.

There are no contract assets or liabilities that arise in connection with the recognition of operating revenues. In addition, there are no costs incurred to obtain or fulfill the contracts with customers. See Note 16 for additional information regarding related party transactions.

Advisory Fees

A significant portion of the Company's revenues from contracts with customers is derived primarily from investment advisory agreements with related parties (Note 16). These advisory fees are recognized over time, are earned from the Company's ETPs and are calculated based on a percentage of the ETPs' average daily net assets. There is no significant judgment in calculating amounts due which are invoiced monthly in arrears and are not subject to any potential reversal. Progress is measured using the practical expedient under the output method resulting in the recognition of revenue in the amount for which the Company has a right to invoice.

Management Fees

Management fees are earned in exchange for Ceres providing investment advisory and other management services to the Ceres Funds. Management fees are generally calculated as a stated percentage of members' capital account balances as of the last day of each calendar quarter, subject to adjustment for any contractual waivers as well as contributions and redemptions arising in any particular quarter. Management fees are recognized as revenue over time, as the performance obligation is satisfied.

Performance Fees

Performance fees represent variable consideration and are earned based on a specified percentage of the Ceres Funds' net profits, subject to contractual fee waivers, high-water marks and loss recovery requirements. Performance fees are earned only after members have recovered prior losses and applicable thresholds have been met. Performance fee revenues are recognized when it is probable that a significant reversal of cumulative revenues recognized will not occur, which generally occurs upon the determination of fund profits that are no longer subject to clawback or reversal under the governing agreements.

Other Revenues

Other revenues include amounts earned from swap providers associated with certain of the Company's European-listed ETPs, which are generally based on a percentage of the ETPs' average daily net assets, and transaction-based income associated with flows into certain European-listed ETPs. Also included in other revenues are amounts the Company earns from Atlantic House's managed models business, generally based on a percentage of assets under advisement, as well as structuring fees for bespoke investment solutions.

Revenue is recognized as the related services are performed. Asset-based fees are recognized over time, based on assets under advisement or net assets. Transaction-based revenues are recognized as the underlying transactions occur, while structuring fees are recognized upon issuance of the related structured product, at which point the Company's performance obligation has been satisfied. Amounts are generally invoiced monthly or quarterly in arrears. The Company applies the practical expedient under the output method, recognizing revenue in the amount to which it has the right to invoice, as this corresponds directly with the value transferred to the client. There is no significant judgment in determining the transaction price, and the related revenues are not subject to significant reversal.

Geographic Distribution of Revenues

The following table presents the Company's total revenues geographically as determined by where the respective management companies reside:

16. Related Party Transactions

Advisory Services

The Company's advisory fee revenues are derived primarily from investment advisory agreements with related parties. Under these agreements, the Company has licensed to related parties the use of certain of its own indexes for the U.S. WisdomTree ETFs, WisdomTree Digital Funds and WisdomTree UCITS ETFs. The relevant boards of trustees or boards of directors (including certain officers of the Company) of each of the related parties are primarily responsible for overseeing the management and affairs of the entities for the benefit of their respective stakeholders and have contracted with the Company to provide for general management and administration services.

The Company is also responsible for certain expenses of some of its related parties, including the cost of transfer agency, custody, fund administration and accounting, legal, audit, and other non-distribution services, excluding extraordinary expenses, taxes and certain other expenses, which are included in fund management and administration in the Consolidated Statements of Operations. In exchange, the Company receives fees based on a percentage of the ETPs' and the Digital Funds' average daily net assets.

A majority of the independent members of the respective board of trustees or board of directors are required to initially and annually (after the first two years) approve the advisory agreements of the U.S. WisdomTree ETFs and the WisdomTree Digital Funds and these agreements may be terminated by such board of trustees or board of directors upon notice.

Ceres Services to the Ceres Funds

Ceres provides investment advisory and other management services to the Ceres Funds. In exchange for these services the Company earns management fees and performance fees as further disclosed in Note 15.

17. Stock-Based Awards

On July 15, 2022, the Company's stockholders approved the 2022 Equity Plan under which the Company may issue up to 16,000,000 shares of common stock (less one share for every share granted under the 2016 Equity Plan since March 31, 2022 and inclusive of shares available under the 2016 Equity Plan as of March 31, 2022) in the form of stock options and other stock-based awards.

The Company grants equity awards to employees and directors, which include restricted stock awards ("RSAs"), restricted stock units ("RSUs"), including deferred RSUs to non-employee directors, performance-based restricted stock units ("PRSUs") and stock options. Certain awards described below are subject to acceleration under certain conditions.

Stock options: Generally issued for terms of ten years and may vest after at least one year of service and have an exercise price equal to the Company's stock price on the grant date. The Company estimates the fair value of stock options (when granted) using the Black-Scholes option pricing model.

RSAs/RSUs: Awards are valued based on the Company's stock price on grant date and generally vest ratably, on an annual basis, over three years. For non-employee directors, such awards generally vest on the one-year anniversary of the grant date.

Deferred RSUs: Awards are valued based on the Company's stock price on grant date and generally vest on the one-year anniversary of the grant date. The awards are issued pursuant to the Company's Non-Employee Director Deferred Compensation Program and are settled based on timing elected by the recipient in advance.

PRSUs: These awards cliff vest three years from the grant date and contain a market condition whereby the number of PRSUs ultimately vesting is tied to how the Company's total shareholder return ("TSR") compares to a peer group of other publicly traded asset managers over the three-year period. A Monte Carlo simulation is used to value these awards.

The number of PRSUs vesting ranges from 0% to 200% of the target number of PRSUs granted, as follows:

- If the relative TSR is below the 25th percentile, then 0% of the target number of PRSUs granted will vest;
- If the relative TSR is at the 25th percentile, then 50% of the target number of PRSUs granted will vest;
- If the relative TSR is above the 25th percentile, then linear scaling is applied such that the percent of the target number of PRSUs vesting is 100% at the 50th percentile and capped at 200% of the target number of PRSUs granted for performance at the 85th percentile; and
- If the Company's TSR is negative, the target number of PRSUs vesting is capped at 100% regardless of the relative TSR percentile.

Stock-based compensation expense was $7,496 and $23,701, respectively, during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2026 and $4,880 and $16,645, respectively, during the comparable periods in 2025.

The Company conducts business as a single operating segment as an ETP sponsor and asset manager, which is based upon the Company's current organizational and management structure, as well as information used by the CODM to allocate resources and assess performance and other factors. The accounting policies of the segment are the same as those described in Note 2.

The table below discloses these key measures and is inclusive of a reconciliation of the Company's operating income and operating income margin as computed under U.S. GAAP to the Company's Non-GAAP adjusted operating income and adjusted operating income margin utilized by the CODM:

The CODM manages the business using consolidated expense information, adjusted for items that are non-recurring or not core to the Company's operating business as disclosed in the table above, as well as regularly provided budgeted or forecasted expense information for the single operating segment.

Executive Summary

We are a modern global asset manager with capabilities across public markets, private markets, tokenization and onchain finance, with approximately $171.0 billion in assets under management as of September 30, 2026. We offer a diverse suite of exchange-traded products ("ETPs"), models and solutions, private market investments and blockchain-enabled products and services.

Public markets remain the foundation of our business. Our ETPs span equities, commodities and currency, fixed income, alternatives, leveraged-and-inverse and cryptocurrency strategies. We have been evolving our "Modern Alpha" investment approach to combine the outperformance potential of active fund management with efficient access, smarter structuring and AI-enhanced investment strategies across public markets, liquid alternatives and, increasingly, private markets. Our products are distributed across institutional and financial intermediary channels, largely through our dedicated sales team. Through our Advisor and Portfolio Solutions programs, we offer technology-enabled, research-driven portfolio construction and consultation services alongside insights from thought leaders to help financial professionals serve clients and grow their businesses.

Private markets offer opportunities for diversification and access to sources of return beyond public markets. We provide investors with exposure to U.S. farmland, a differentiated asset class offering current income and long-term appreciation potential. We are exploring opportunities to broaden investor access to private markets by incorporating private market allocations into ETFs, combining these exposures with the accessibility and convenience of the ETF structure.

We believe tokenization and onchain finance will fundamentally change how financial assets are issued, distributed and traded. Our early investments established the foundation for WisdomTree Onchain™, an integrated financial services platform combining tokenized investment products, infrastructure and distribution. The platform connects retail and institutional investors to our products through proprietary channels and third-party relationships, and we are developing Onchain Markets to support secondary trading of tokenized funds. We believe the underlying infrastructure also creates opportunities to provide tokenization services to other financial institutions, extending our business beyond our own investment products. We remain committed to "responsible DeFi," aligning our offerings with applicable regulatory standards.

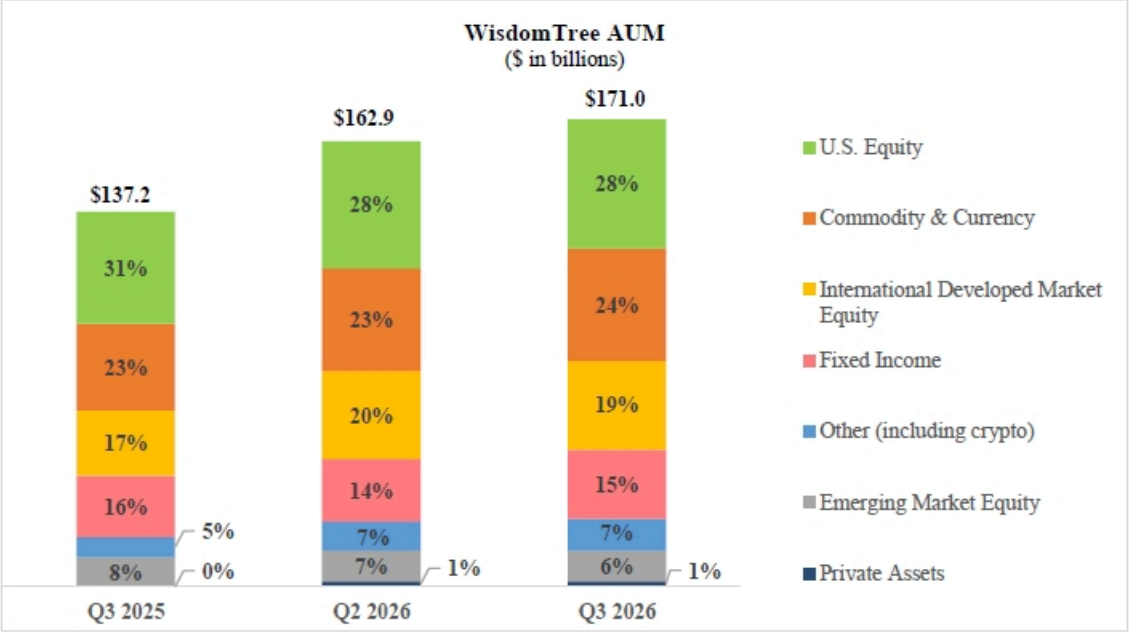

Together, these capabilities position us to meet evolving investor needs, diversifying our revenues and supporting continued growth.

We were incorporated under the laws of the state of Delaware on September 19, 1985 as Financial Data Systems, Inc. and were ultimately renamed WisdomTree, Inc. on November 7, 2022.

Assets Under Management

WisdomTree ETPs

We offer ETPs covering equities, commodities and currency, fixed income, alternatives, leveraged-and-inverse, private assets and cryptocurrency. The chart below sets forth the asset mix of our ETPs at September 30, 2026, June 30, 2026 and September 30, 2025:

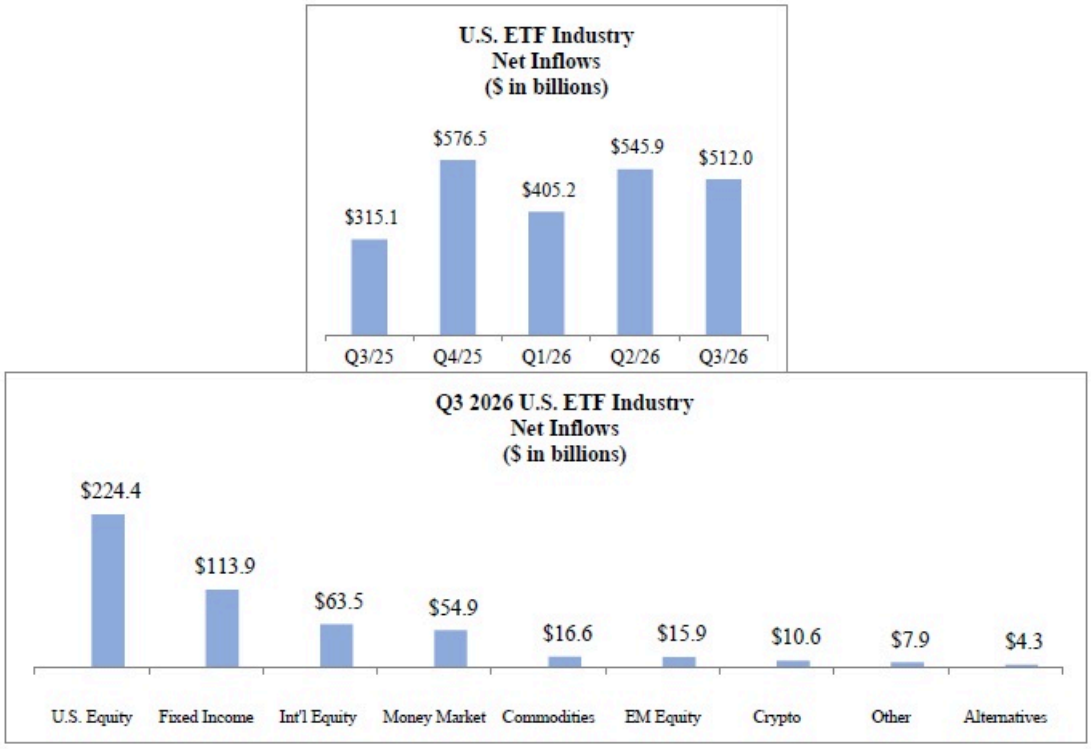

Market Environment

Global financial markets posted modest gains during the third quarter of 2026, supported by solid corporate earnings and continued investment in artificial intelligence, although market leadership narrowed as small-capitalization stocks declined and the AI-driven rally in emerging markets faded early in the quarter. The Federal Reserve raised its target interest rate by 25 basis points in September, its first increase since 2023, and longer-dated U.S. Treasury yields rose to multi-year highs. Commodities advanced, led by energy and industrial metals, while coordinated U.S. and Japanese intervention in support of the Japanese yen added volatility to currency markets.

During the quarter, the S&P 500, MSCI EAFE Index (local currency), MSCI Japan Index (local currency) and gold prices increased by 2.3%, 0.7%, 2.6% and 3.7%, respectively, while the MSCI EMU Index (local currency) and MSCI Emerging Markets Index (U.S. dollar) decreased by 1.5% and 0.2%, respectively. The U.S. dollar strengthened 0.5% versus the euro, weakened 2.8% versus the Japanese yen and was essentially unchanged versus the British pound during the quarter.

U.S. Listed ETF Industry Flows

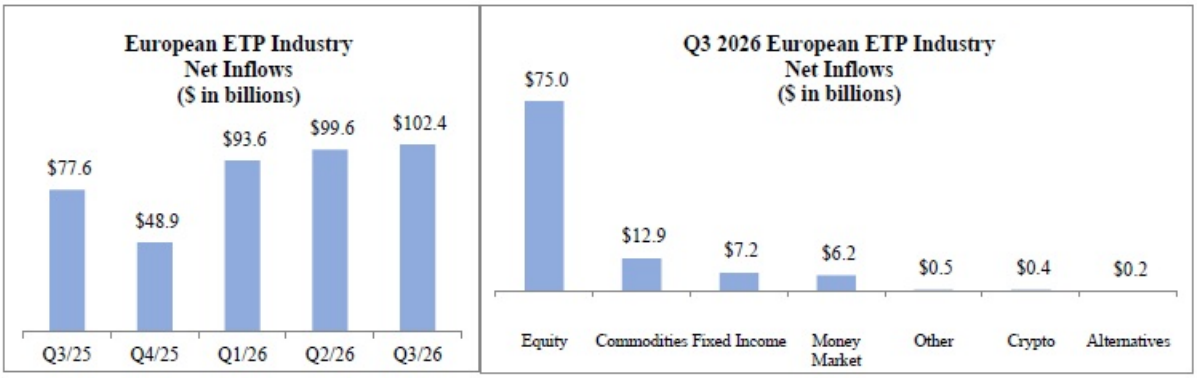

U.S. listed ETF industry net flows were $512.0 billion for the three months ended September 30, 2026. U.S. Equity gathered the majority of those flows.

European Listed ETP Industry Flows

European listed ETP industry net flows were $102.4 billion for the three months ended September 30, 2026. Equity gathered the majority of those flows.

The AUM of our U.S. listed exchange traded funds, or U.S. listed ETFs, increased from $99.0 billion at June 30, 2026 to $101.6 billion at September 30, 2026 due to net inflows and market appreciation.

The AUM of our European listed (including internationally cross-listed) ETPs, or European listed ETPs, increased from $61.1 billion at June 30, 2026 to $66.0 billion at September 30, 2026 due to market appreciation and net inflows.

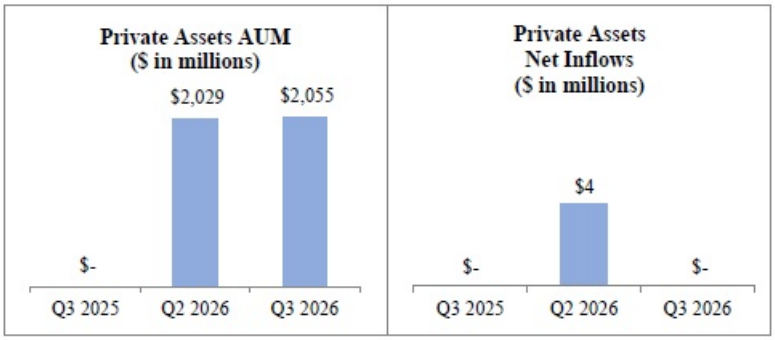

Onchain Products

The AUM of our onchain products increased from $761 million at June 30, 2026 to $1,273 million at September 30, 2026 due to net inflows. Substantially all Q3 2026 inflows were into the WisdomTree Treasury Money Market Digital Fund.

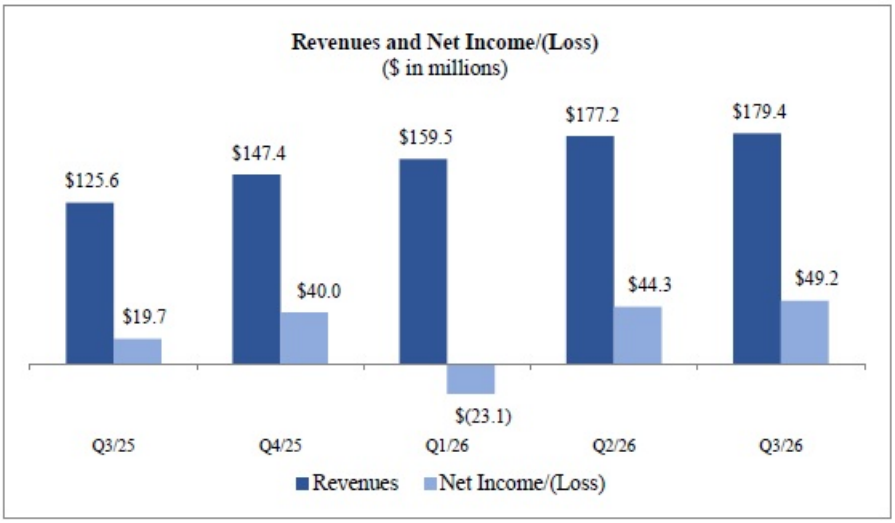

Private Assets

The AUM of our private assets products was essentially unchanged from June 30, 2026.

Consolidated Operating Results

The following table sets forth our revenues and net (loss)/income for the most recent five quarters.

- Revenues – Total revenues increased 42.8% from the three months ended September 30, 2025 to $179.4 million in the comparable period in 2026, due to higher average AUM, a higher average advisory fee, revenues arising from the acquisitions of Ceres Partners, LLC ("Ceres") and Atlantic House Holdings Limited ("Atlantic House"), and increased other revenues from our European listed ETPs.

- Expenses – Total operating expenses increased 31.6% from the three months ended September 30, 2025 to $105.3 million in the comparable period in 2026 primarily due to higher incentive compensation and headcount, as well as increased fund management and administration expenses, intangible asset amortization related to the Ceres and Atlantic House acquisitions and third-party distribution fees, partly offset by lower acquisition-related costs.
- Other Income/(Expenses) – Other income/(expenses) includes interest income and interest expense, loss on repurchase of convertible notes, impairments and other items. Further information is provided herein.
- Net income – We reported net income of $49.2 million and $19.7 million during the three months ended September 30, 2026 and 2025, respectively.

Guidance Update for the Year Ending December 31, 2026

Compensation to Revenue Ratio

Our compensation to revenue ratio for the year ending December 31, 2026 is currently estimated to range from 26% to 28% (unchanged from our guidance provided last quarter) and takes into consideration the Atlantic House acquisition, planned hires as well as year-end compensation adjustments and the annualization of hires made during 2025. The range also considers variability in incentive compensation with drivers including the magnitude of our flows, revenues and operating income growth, margin expansion and our stock price performance in relation to our peers. A range is provided in consideration of uncertain market conditions.

Discretionary Spending

Discretionary spending includes marketing, sales, professional fees, occupancy and equipment, depreciation and amortization and other expenses. During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, our discretionary spending was $62.2 million. We currently estimate our discretionary spending for the year ending December 31, 2026 to range from $83.0 million to $87.0 million (as compared to the guidance range of $83.0 million to $89.0 million provided last quarter).

Not included in the guidance above is intangible amortization arising from the Ceres and Atlantic House acquisitions, of which $7.3 million was recognized during the nine months ended September 30, 2026.

Gross Margin

We define gross margin as total operating revenues less fund management and administration expenses. Gross margin percentage is calculated as gross margin divided by total operating revenues. Our gross margin was 83.4% during the nine months ended September 30, 2026. For the year ending December 31, 2026, we currently estimate that our gross margin percentage will be 83% to 84% (unchanged from our guidance provided last quarter).

Third-Party Distribution Fees

We currently estimate third-party distribution expense to be approximately $21.0 million to $23.0 million for the year ending December 31, 2026 (as compared to the guidance range of $20.0 million to $24.0 million provided last quarter).

Interest Expense

We currently estimate our interest expense for the year ending December 31, 2026 to be $54.0 million (unchanged from our guidance provided last quarter) taking into consideration our current capital structure. See Note 9 to our consolidated financial statements for additional information. This guidance is inclusive of approximately $0.9 million of interest cost we are required to impute under U.S. GAAP related to our interest-free financing of the shares of Series C Non-Voting Convertible Preferred Stock (the "Series C Preferred Stock") we repurchased from Gold Bullion Holdings (Jersey) Limited ("GBH"), a subsidiary of the World Gold Council, in November 2023.

Interest Income

We currently estimate our interest income for the year ending December 31, 2026 to be $9.0 million (previously $8.0 million), reflecting our current expectations for interest-earning assets.

Income Tax Expense

We currently estimate that our consolidated normalized effective tax rate will be approximately 23.0% to 24.0% for the year ending December 31, 2026 (unchanged from our guidance provided last quarter).

This estimated rate may change and is dependent upon our actual taxable income earned in relation to our forecasts as well as any other items which may arise that are not currently forecasted. Such items may include, but are not limited to, increases or decreases in valuation allowances and any stock-based compensation windfalls or shortfalls. Additional corporate tax legislation could also impact our normalized effective tax rate.

Weighted Average Diluted Shares

Our weighted average diluted shares for the three months ended September 30, 2026 were 156.2 million. We currently estimate our weighted average diluted shares to be between 156.0 million and 160.0 million for the fourth quarter of 2026 (previously 152.0 million to 155.0 million shares). This guidance contemplates incremental shares associated with our Convertible Notes, assuming a stock price of $22.00 to $24.00 per share. Actual diluted shares may fall outside this range depending on our average share price during the quarter. While our Convertible Notes require principal to be paid in cash, our diluted shares would need to be increased for any incremental shares associated with an exercise of the conversion option if our stock price exceeds the applicable conversion price of our Convertible Notes of $19.15 per share for the 4.625% Convertible Senior Notes due 2030 and $21.58 per share for the 4.50% Convertible Senior Notes due 2031.

Non-GAAP Financial Measurements

In an effort to provide additional information regarding our results as determined by GAAP, we also disclose certain non-GAAP information which we believe provides useful and meaningful information. Our management reviews these non-GAAP financial measurements when evaluating our financial performance and results of operations; therefore, we believe it is useful to provide information with respect to these non-GAAP measurements so as to share this perspective of management. Non-GAAP measurements do not have any standardized meaning, do not replace nor are they superior to GAAP financial measurements and are unlikely to be comparable to similar measures presented by other companies. These non-GAAP financial measurements should be considered in the context with our GAAP results. The non-GAAP financial measurements contained in this Report include the following:

Adjusted Net Income and Diluted Earnings per Share

We disclose adjusted net income and diluted earnings per share as non-GAAP financial measurements in order to report our results exclusive of items that are non-recurring or not core to our operating business. We believe presenting these non-GAAP financial measurements provides investors with a consistent way to analyze our performance. These non-GAAP financial measurements exclude the following:

- Gains or losses on financial instruments owned: We account for our financial instruments owned as trading securities, which requires these instruments to be measured at fair value with gains and losses reported in net income. We exclude these items when calculating our non-GAAP financial measurements as the gains and losses introduce earnings volatility and are not core to our operating business.
- Foreign currency remeasurement gains and losses on U.S. dollars held by foreign subsidiaries: GAAP requires account balances to be remeasured into an entity's functional currency, with resulting gains and losses reported in net income. Foreign subsidiaries holding U.S. dollars remeasure these balances into their functional currencies and recognize the gains and losses. Also excluded are remeasurement gains on British pounds held to complete the Atlantic House acquisition. We exclude remeasurement effects from our non-GAAP financial measures, as they introduce earnings volatility, are not core to our operations and arise from balances denominated in our reporting currency.
- Tax windfalls and shortfalls upon vesting of stock-based compensation awards: GAAP requires the recognition of tax windfalls and shortfalls within income tax expense. These items arise upon the vesting of stock-based compensation awards and the magnitude is directly correlated to the number of awards vesting/exercised, as well as the difference between the price of our stock on the date the award was granted and the date the award vested or was exercised. We exclude these items when calculating our non-GAAP financial measurements as they introduce earnings volatility and are not core to our operating business.
- Remeasurement of contingent consideration arising from the Ceres acquisition: On October 1, 2025, we completed the Ceres acquisition for aggregate consideration consisting of (i) $275.0 million in cash payable at closing, subject to customary post-closing adjustments and (ii) contingent consideration of up to $225.0 million, payable in 2030, contingent upon Ceres achieving a compound annual growth rate ("CAGR") in revenues of 12% to 22% during the measurement period of January 1, 2025 through December 31, 2029. GAAP requires contingent consideration to be re-measured each reporting period with changes in fair value reported in net income. We exclude changes in fair value of contingent consideration when calculating our non-GAAP financial measurements as these items are not core to our operating business.

- Other items: Amortization of intangible assets, changes in deferred tax asset valuation allowance, imputed interest on our payable to Gold Bullion Holdings (Jersey) Limited ("GBH"), gains and losses recognized on our investments, losses related to convertible notes transactions and acquisition-related costs are excluded when calculating our non-GAAP financial measurements.

These decreases were partly offset by $603.8 million of proceeds from the issuance of the 2031 Notes, $153.1 million provided from operating activities and $87.2 million of proceeds from the sale of financial instruments owned, at fair value.

Cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash increased by $374.7 million during the nine months ended September 30, 2025 due to $475.0 million of proceeds from the issuance of the 2030 Notes, $93.3 million of cash provided by operating activities, $8.9 million of proceeds from the sale of financial instruments owned, at fair value and $6.3 million increase in cash flow due to changes in foreign exchange rates. These increases were partly offset by $102.7 million used to repurchase our common stock, $36.7 million to repurchase a portion of the 2028 Notes, $25.3 million used to purchase financial instruments owned, at fair value, $17.6 million used to purchase investments, $13.2 million used to pay dividends, $11.1 million used to pay convertible notes issuance costs, $2.0 million used to pay for software development and $0.2 million from other activities.

Convertible Notes

We have the following convertible notes outstanding as of September 30, 2026:

- $475.0 million in aggregate principal amount of 4.625% Convertible Senior Notes due 2030 (the “2030 Notes”); and
- $603.75 million in aggregate principal amount of 4.50% Convertible Senior Notes due 2031 (the “2031 Notes”).

Each class of notes was issued pursuant to indentures dated as of the issuance dates between us and U.S. Bank Trust Company, National Association, as trustee (either initially or as successor to U.S. Bank National Association, the “Trustee”), in private offerings to qualified institutional buyers pursuant to Rule 144A under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

In connection with the issuance of the 2031 Notes in March 2026, we exchanged $75.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the 2026 Notes for 6,807,374 shares of common stock and $275.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the 2029 Notes for $302.7 million in cash and 4,192,620 shares of common stock. Additionally, in June 2026, we retired the remaining $75.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the 2026 Notes and $51.9 million in aggregate principal amount of the 2029 Notes for cash of $120.1 million and $87.4 million, respectively. In September 2026, we settled conversions of the remaining $18.1 million in aggregate principal amount of the 2029 Notes for cash of $32.4 million. As a result of these transactions, we recognized the following:

- During the three months ended September 30, 2026, we recorded a reduction to equity of $14.4 million as a result of the redemption of the 2029 Notes; and
- During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, we recognized a loss of $68.9 million, comprised of a loss on extinguishment of $16.9 million associated with the repurchase of the 2026 Notes and a loss of $52.0 million arising from the repurchase of the 2029 Notes, which was accounted for as an induced conversion. Additionally, $131.0 million was recorded as a reduction to equity resulting from these transactions, as well as the maturity of the remaining $75.0 million aggregate principal amount of the 2026 Notes.

As of September 30, 2026, we had an aggregate principal amount of $1,078.75 million outstanding of the 2030 Notes and the 2031 Notes (collectively, the "Convertible Notes").

No sinking fund is provided for the Convertible Notes.

- Seniority and Security: The Convertible Notes rank equal in right of payment and are our senior unsecured obligations.

The indentures contain customary terms and covenants, including that upon certain events of default occurring and continuing, either the Trustee or the respective holders of not less than 25% in aggregate principal amount of the respective series of Convertible Notes outstanding may declare the entire principal amount of all such respective Convertible Notes to be repurchased, plus any accrued special interest, if any, to be immediately due and payable.

Capital Resources

Our principal source of financing is our operating cash flow. We believe that current cash flows generated by our operating activities and existing cash balances should be sufficient for us to fund our operations for the foreseeable future.

Our ability to satisfy our contractual obligations as they arise is discussed in the section titled "Contractual Obligations" below.

Use of Capital

Our business does not require us to maintain a significant cash position. However, certain of our subsidiaries are required to maintain a minimum level of regulatory capital, which at September 30, 2026 was approximately $48.5 million in the aggregate. Notwithstanding these regulatory capital requirements, we expect that our main uses of cash will be to fund the ongoing operations of our business. We also maintain a capital return program which includes a $0.03 per share quarterly cash dividend and authority to purchase our common stock through April 27, 2028, including purchases to offset future equity grants made under our equity plans and purchases made in open market or privately negotiated transactions.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2026, we repurchased 3,509,892 shares of our common stock under the repurchase program for an aggregate cost of $61.5 million. Currently, approximately $188.5 million remains under this program for future purchases.

Contractual Obligations

Convertible Notes

We currently have $1,078.75 million in aggregate principal amount of Convertible Notes outstanding, of which $475.0 million and $603.75 million are scheduled to mature on August 15, 2030 and October 1, 2031, in respect of the 2030 Notes and the 2031 Notes, respectively, unless earlier converted, repurchased or redeemed. Conditional conversions or a requirement to repurchase the Convertible Notes upon the occurrence of a fundamental change may accelerate payment.

The Convertible Notes require cash settlement of up to the principal amount, while settlement of the conversion obligation in excess of the aggregate principal amount may be satisfied in either cash, shares of our common stock or a combination of cash and shares of our common stock. We may settle and/or refinance these obligations when due.

See the section titled "Convertible Notes" above for additional information.

Contingent Consideration

Pursuant to the Ceres Purchase Agreement, up to $225.0 million of additional consideration is payable in 2030, contingent upon Ceres achieving a compound annual growth rate ("CAGR") in revenue of 12% to 22% during the earnout measurement period of January 1, 2025 through December 31, 2029, as follows:

- If the revenue CAGR for the earnout period is equal to or less than 12%, then the aggregate amount of the earnout consideration will be $0;
- If the revenue CAGR for the earnout period is greater than 12% but less than 22%, then the aggregate amount of the earnout consideration will be pro-rated using straight-line interpolation between $0 and $225.0 million; and
- If the revenue CAGR for the earnout period is equal to or greater than 22%, then the aggregate amount of the earnout consideration will be $225.0 million.

We have determined that the earnout should be classified as contingent consideration as (i) continuing employment is not a condition for payment (except as described below), (ii) non-employee sellers are entitled to similar payments based upon their relative ownership percentages and (iii) the payment formula described above is tied to the valuation of the acquired business. Under ASC 805, contingent consideration must be recognized at the acquisition date as part of the consideration transferred for the acquired business.

The fair value of the contingent consideration at September 30, 2026 was $13.7 million.

In connection with the Ceres acquisition, the Sellers established a retention bonus plan for certain Ceres employees pursuant to which the greater of $3.05 million or 10% of any earnout consideration in excess of $50.0 million will be forfeited by the Sellers and paid to participating employees, contingent upon continued employment through earnout payment date. Any amounts forfeited due to employee attrition revert to the Sellers. This compensation will be recognized over the service period with an equal and offsetting receivable from the Sellers.

Payable to GBH

On November 20, 2023, we repurchased our Series C Preferred Stock from GBH for aggregate cash consideration of approximately $84.4 million. Under the terms of the transaction, we paid GBH $40 million on the closing date, with the remainder of the purchase price payable in equal, interest-free installments on the first, second and third anniversaries of the closing date, of which $69.6 million has been paid to date. The implied price per share was $6.02 when considering the interest-free financing element of the transaction.

The carrying value of this obligation was $14.7 million at September 30, 2026.

Operating Leases

Total future minimum lease payments with respect to our operating lease liabilities were $2.4 million at September 30, 2026. Cash flows generated by our operating activities and existing cash balances should be sufficient to satisfy the future minimum lease payments. See Note 12 to our Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

We do not have any off-balance sheet financing or other arrangements and have neither created nor are party to any special-purpose or off-balance sheet entities for the purpose of raising capital, incurring debt or operating our business.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

Business Combinations

We account for business combinations under the acquisition method of accounting in accordance with ASC Topic 805, Business Combinations, which requires an allocation of the consideration paid by us to the identifiable assets, intangible assets and liabilities based on the estimated fair values as of the closing date of the acquisition. Contingent consideration obligations that are elements of consideration transferred are recognized at the acquisition date as part of the fair value transferred in exchange for the acquired business and are remeasured to fair value each reporting period. The excess of the fair value of purchase price over the fair values of the identifiable assets, intangible assets and liabilities is recorded as goodwill.

Goodwill and Intangible Assets

Goodwill is the excess of the purchase price over the fair values of the identifiable net assets at the acquisition date. We test goodwill for impairment at least annually and at the time of a triggering event requiring re-evaluation, if one were to occur. Goodwill is considered impaired when the estimated fair value of the reporting unit that was allocated the goodwill is less than its carrying value. If the estimated fair value of such reporting unit is less than its carrying value, goodwill impairment is recognized based on that difference, not to exceed the carrying amount of goodwill. A reporting unit is an operating segment or a component of an operating segment provided that the component constitutes a business for which discrete financial information is available and management regularly reviews the operating results of that component.

We test goodwill for impairment at the reporting unit level and have determined that we have a single reporting unit, consistent with our single operating segment. Goodwill is assessed for impairment annually on November 30th. When performing our goodwill impairment test, we consider a qualitative assessment, when appropriate, and the market approach and our market capitalization when determining the fair value of the reporting unit. The results of our most recent analysis indicated no impairment based upon a quantitative assessment.

Indefinite-lived intangible assets are tested for impairment at least annually and are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Indefinite-lived intangible assets are impaired if their estimated fair value is less than their carrying value. We may rely on a qualitative assessment when performing our intangible asset impairment test. Otherwise, the impairment evaluation is performed at the lowest level of reasonably identifiable cash flows independent of other assets. The annual impairment testing date for our intangible assets is November 30th. The results of our most recent analysis identified no indicators of impairment to be recognized based upon a quantitative assessment (discounted cash flow analysis) which relied upon significant unobservable inputs including projected revenue growth rates of 3.0% and a weighted average cost of capital of 9.0%.

Investments

We account for equity investments that do not have a readily determinable fair value under the measurement alternative prescribed within Accounting Standards Codification Topic 321, Investments – Equity Securities, to the extent such investments are not subject to consolidation or the equity method. Under the measurement alternative, these financial instruments are carried at cost, less any impairment (assessed quarterly), plus or minus changes resulting from observable price changes in orderly transactions for an identical or similar investment of the same issuer. In addition, income is recognized when dividends are received only to the extent they are distributed from net accumulated earnings of the investee. Otherwise, such distributions are considered returns of investment and are recorded as a reduction of the cost of the investment. See Note 7 to our Consolidated Financial Statements for information.

Investments in debt instruments are accounted for at fair value, with changes in fair value reported in other income/(expenses).

Revenue Recognition

We earn a significant portion of our revenues in the form of advisory fees from our ETPs and recognize this revenue over time, as the performance obligation is satisfied. Advisory fees are based on a percentage of the ETPs' average daily net assets. Progress is measured using the practical expedient under the output method resulting in the recognition of revenue in the amount for which we have a right to invoice.

We earn management fees in exchange for Ceres providing investment advisory and other management services to the Ceres Funds. Management fees are generally calculated as a stated percentage of members' capital account balances as of the last day of each calendar quarter, subject to adjustment for any contractual waivers as well as contributions and redemptions arising in any particular quarter. Management fees are recognized as revenue over time, as the performance obligation is satisfied.

We earn performance fees based on a specified percentage of the Ceres Funds' net profits, subject to contractual fee waivers, high-water marks and loss recovery requirements. Performance fees are earned only after members have recovered prior losses and applicable thresholds have been met. Performance fee revenues are recognized when it is probable that a significant reversal of cumulative revenues recognized will not occur, which generally occurs upon the determination of fund profits that are no longer subject to clawback or reversal under the governing agreements.

Other revenues include amounts earned from swap providers associated with certain of our European-listed ETPs, which are generally based on a percentage of the ETPs' average daily net assets, and transaction-based income associated with flows into certain European-listed ETPs. We also earn revenue from Atlantic House's managed models business, generally based on a percentage of assets under advisement, as well as structuring fees for bespoke investment solutions.

Revenue is recognized as the related services are performed. Asset-based fees are recognized over time, based on assets under advisement or net assets. Transaction-based revenues are recognized as the underlying transactions occur, while structuring fees are recognized upon issuance of the related structured product, at which point our performance obligation has been satisfied. Amounts are generally invoiced monthly or quarterly in arrears. We apply the practical expedient under the output method, recognizing revenue in the amount to which we have the right to invoice, as this corresponds directly with the value transferred to the customer. There is no significant judgment in determining the transaction price, and the related revenues are not subject to significant reversal.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

The following information, together with information included in other parts of this Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations, describes key aspects of our market risk.

Market Risk

Market risk to us generally represents the risk of changes in the value of our products that results from fluctuations in securities or commodity prices, the value of underlying real assets (including farmland), the value of derivative-based investment strategies and their underlying market exposures, foreign currency exchange rates against the U.S. dollar, and interest rates. Nearly all our revenues are derived from advisory agreements for the WisdomTree ETPs and other managed investment vehicles, including those acquired through the Ceres and Atlantic House acquisitions. Under these agreements, the fees we receive are based on the average market value of the assets in the WisdomTree products we manage and, in the case of other managed investment vehicles, on investors' capital account balances, which are influenced by the value of the underlying assets.

Fluctuations in the value of the ETPs are common and are generated by numerous factors such as market volatility, the global economy, inflation, changes in investor strategies and sentiment, availability of alternative investment vehicles, domestic and foreign government regulations, emerging markets developments and others. With respect to farmland-focused investment products, changes in farmland values may be driven by factors such as agricultural commodity prices, farm income, interest rates, inflation expectations, land supply and demand dynamics, climate and weather conditions, and government agricultural and environmental policies. Accordingly, changes in any one or a combination of these factors may reduce the value of investment securities or real assets and, in turn, the underlying AUM or investors' capital account balances on which our revenues are earned. These declines may cause investors to withdraw funds from our products in favor of investments that they perceive as offering greater opportunity or lower risk, thereby compounding the impact on our revenues. We believe challenging and volatile market conditions will continue to be present in the foreseeable future.

Interest Rate Risk

We invest our corporate cash in short-term interest earning assets, primarily in federal agency debt instruments, WisdomTree fixed income ETFs, U.S. treasuries, corporate bonds, money market instruments at a commercial bank and other financial instruments which totaled $268.2 million and $170.5 million as of December 31, 2025 and September 30, 2026, respectively. During the three months ended September 30, 2026, we recognized gains on these financial instruments of $0.1 million and any gains/losses recognized in the future may be material to our operating results. We do not anticipate that changes in interest rates will have a material impact on our financial condition or cash flows.

In addition, our Convertible Notes bear interest at fixed rates of 4.625% for the 2030 Notes and 4.50% for the 2031 Notes. Therefore, we have no direct financial statement risk associated with changes in interest rates. However, the fair value of the Convertible Notes changes primarily when the market price of our common stock fluctuates or interest rates change.

Exchange Rate Risk

We are subject to currency translation exposure on the results of our non-U.S. operations, primarily in the U.K. and Europe. Foreign currency translation risk is the risk that exchange rate gains or losses arise from translating foreign entities' statements of earnings and balance sheets from functional currency to our reporting currency (the U.S. dollar) for consolidation purposes. The advisory fees earned on our European listed ETPs are predominantly in U.S. dollars (and also paid in gold, other precious metals and cryptocurrency, as described below); however, expenses for corporate overhead are generally incurred in British pounds. Currently, we do not enter into derivative financial instruments aimed at offsetting certain exposures in the statement of operations or the balance sheet but may seek to do so in the future.

Exchange rate risk associated with the euro is not considered to be significant.

Commodity and Cryptocurrency Price Risk

Fluctuations in the prices of commodities and cryptocurrencies that are linked to certain of our ETPs could have a material adverse effect on our AUM and revenues. In addition, a portion of the advisory fee revenues we receive on our ETPs backed by gold, other precious metals and cryptocurrencies are paid in the underlying metal or cryptocurrency. While we readily sell the gold, precious metals and cryptocurrencies that we earn under these advisory contracts, we still may maintain a position. We currently do not enter into arrangements to hedge against fluctuations in the price of these commodities and cryptocurrencies and any hedging we may undertake in the future may not be cost-effective or sufficient to hedge against this exposure.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

As of September 30, 2026, our management, with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer and Chief Accounting Officer, evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures pursuant to Rule 13a-15(b) promulgated under the Exchange Act. Based upon that evaluation, our Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer and Chief Accounting Officer concluded that, as of September 30, 2026, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective at a reasonable assurance level in ensuring that material information required to be disclosed by us in the reports that we file or submit under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the rules, regulations and forms of the SEC, including ensuring that such material information is accumulated by and communicated to our management, including our Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer and Chief Accounting Officer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. See "Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting" below for a discussion regarding the Ceres and Atlantic House acquisitions, which were completed on October 1, 2025 and May 1, 2026, respectively.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In accordance with guidance issued by the SEC, companies are permitted to exclude acquisitions from their final assessment of internal control over financial reporting for the first fiscal year in which the acquisition occurred. Management's evaluation of internal control over financial reporting excluded the internal control activities of Ceres, which we acquired on October 1, 2025, and Atlantic House, which we acquired on May 1, 2026, as discussed in Note 3 to our Consolidated Financial Statements. We have included the financial results of these acquisitions in the consolidated financial statements from the date of each acquisition. As of the date of this Report, we are in the process of completing the integration of Ceres and Atlantic House into our overall internal control over financial reporting, and have deferred our assessment of the internal control over financial reporting related to the Ceres and Atlantic House acquisitions. The table below shows the contribution to total assets, net assets, revenues and net income as a result of the acquisitions:

	Three Months Ended September 30, 2026
% of Total assets	3.2%
% of Net assets	5.9%
% of Revenues	10.1%
% of Net income	15.5%

During the quarter ended September 30, 2026, there were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.
